About us

(B-BBEE Level 4)

The Animal Welfare Society of South Africa was founded in March 1929. Our organisation is member-based, non-governmental and an autonomous NPO and registered PBO established to ensure the rights, health and welfare of all animals.

Over the past 91 years we have consistently executed our Mission to champion the cause of all animals. We have achieved this through:

- Professional veterinary care
- Inspectorate services
- Human education, Sterilisation and Outreach projects
- Successful adoption and foster programmes that every year places many animals in caring forever homes

We offer a full range of veterinary services to the underprivileged and disadvantaged communities of the Cape Metro. From our base in Philippi, we handle about 4,000 animals per month. Our clinic is open 7 days a week to accommodate those who are unable to bring their pets during the week. We have 4 fully-equipped and very busy theatres where we do sterilisations, orthopaedic operations and many other procedures. The Society does not receive state funding and relies almost solely on donations.

At any one time we can house in excess of 175 sick or injured animals. We are committed to sterilising every animal that comes through our hospital as our contribution to reducing the number of strays and unwanted animals in the Cape Metro.

The Society has an Adoption Centre, where we take in stray, homeless, unwanted, abused and abandoned animals and find them their forever home. They are medically assessed, vaccinated, treated for internal and external parasites, microchipped and sterilised before leaving our care.

Our Inspectorate Department responds to daily calls with regard to cases relating to animal cruelty and general neglect of animals as well as ongoing reported cases of animal fighting in our communities. We often respond to reports of injured stray animals, large and small on our public road ways by our City's Traffic Department, SAPS and Law Enforcement.

Patron's Message

2020 started out positively for AWS and I was happy to officially open the Isdell Sterilisation Clinic in January.

Without any doubt the crisis caused by Covid 19 is the biggest global disaster that we have faced in my lifetime. It is during stressful times like these that the quality, strength, dedication and belief of people is clearly defined.

It is by this measure that we need to look back at the last extremely difficult months and there is no question that the AWS family, consisting of staff, volunteers, management, donors, sponsors and the general public have excelled in rising to the challenge of coping with so many abandoned pets and animals.

I wish you all strength and courage in the months ahead.
I salute you all.

President's report

For any South African business or charitable institution, 2019/2020 was far from easy – a weakening economy where costs increased, and our pet owners found it increasingly difficult to afford veterinary services. Notwithstanding this, AWS SA did well in 2019/2020.

This was not by chance but because of the efforts and involvement of people working and supporting the 'AWS dream'. The following are thanked for their ongoing support and special effort:

- Dr John McMullen and his dedicated team of hard-working staff under very difficult circumstances;
- Dr Jim McNamara, our enthusiastic Chairman, and his experienced Exco members for their considerable input;
- Our donors, testators, charitable trusts, sponsors and benefactors, whose support is critical for AWS to provide the high level of ongoing services;
- Pamela Isdell, our Patron, for her passionate and 'hands on' interest and support;
- Allan Perrins, our very dedicated and energetic Communications and Resource Development Officer for ensuring that the good work of AWS SA is known and supported.

It is apt to use the words of Siya Kolisi, our 2019 World Cup winning Captain:
"Stronger Together!"

Chairman's report

Resilience. If I had to choose one word to characterise the courageous performance of the Society's staff and leadership in recent months, it would be that one.

Everything that has been thrown at them – burglaries, water leaks, storms, internet loss, load shedding, and of course the virus – they have simply handled in their quiet, professional way, in service to our communities and the pets they love. They have my thanks and admiration for their ceaseless dedication to animal welfare.

The broader community of supporters has likewise shown great resilience in continuing to provide the resources needed to sustain the Society's operations. This has been especially necessary because some of the Society's operations have not generated the income that they used to; like so many small businesses, the lockdown has hurt.

It was especially heartening to see the response to our call for dog food for us to distribute to pet owners in distressed areas. This went to people who felt that their changed economic circumstances no longer allowed them to keep their pets, and who came to us to turn the animals in. The fact that your donations allowed us to help keep these families whole is a sure sign of the kindness of animal lovers, even amidst such difficult days for all of you.

Also pleasing has been the increase in support from trusts and bequests, which were willing and able to include animal welfare amongst their beneficiaries.

We remain determined to carry on with our mass sterilisations campaigns at the Isdell Clinic, to address the larger chronic problem of animal overbreeding in some of our communities.

Having celebrated the Society's 90th birthday in 2019, and now having survived a period that has seen many struggling organisations having to close their doors, AWS looks to the future with confidence that the sterling work of Dr John McMullen and his team will remain as robust as ever.

Please do let us know if you would like to become more deeply involved in the work of the Society; we think that you would find it both enjoyable and fulfilling.

CEO's report

As our financial year draws to a close and we prepare for our first virtual Annual General Meeting in September, the Executive Committee reflects on what has been achieved, proposed and planned for our 91st year of operational existence as 'The Society that Cares'.

Our major projects across the board were first and foremost the complete renovation and opening of the Isdell Sterilisation Clinic. This included the procurement of new equipment, surgical instruments and ancillary necessities such as a washing machine, tumble dryer, drug safe and common room facilities for staff.

Despite the lockdown we were able to complete eight-hundred and one sterilisations on weekends and public holidays, and envisage a surge in operations after the lifting of the current restrictions. This will be in addition to our main hospital surgeries and enhance our ability to curb the numbers of unwanted litters born in the ever expanding Cape Metropole.

Next was the Ground2Tap project to substantially reduce or ration our reliance on potable council water. Due to the ongoing scarcity of this precious element vital to sustaining life, and the global warming affecting South Africa, we are "filtering" borehole water to consumable quality and thus saving 6000 – 8000 kilolitres of council water per day.

Our third project was conceived during the Corona Pandemic with generous donations of animal food by supporters and all the premium pet food companies. We started an outreach feeding scheme launched in our immediate peripheral area to feed the pets of indigent families. We soon became aware that the families themselves were suffering as a result of the pandemic with unemployment, self-isolation and children at home. Social distancing in these communities is difficult due to the environment and lack of hygienic facilities. We therefore broadened the scope of the project with a food gift for the animals and a hamper for the family including clothes and shoes from our donations. The tableau on our Facebook page shows it in action.

Our hospital statistics really become relevant when you consider the output of the dedicated team of staff that produce this humanitarian work on a daily basis. We are available after hours and consult Saturday and Sunday which are our busiest two days of the week.

During this reporting period, we have seen a few of our retired staff who were working part time finally re-retire. Thank you Louise, Suzanne and Margaret for your long years of service. Also, we bid farewell to Tamerin who is relocating up country with her family.

The society has remained fully operational throughout the pandemic as an essential service and have had only one staff member succumb to the virus. Stringent PPE protocol measures have been in place since the onset and this has paid dividends.

Well done to the incredible staff for their dedication to the society. My thanks to the executive, auditors, supporters and Personal Trust who manage our finances.

Only 1 in 20 South Africans can afford to retire. Let's improve your odds.

Over the course of the last 40 years, we've gathered together some of the best minds in the business. A good retirement plan, followed through consistently over time has dramatically improved the quality of retired life for many of our clients.

We offer a comprehensive range of financial services, including investment and portfolio management, offshore financial services, trustee services, retirement planning, local and offshore money market, estate planning, tax services and wills.

— CELEBRATING 40 YEARS —

Honorary Treasurer's report

The Society remains in a reasonably stable financial position as a result of the capital fund balance, which is diversely invested.

In 2020 the income has been more equally divided across the various categories. With bequests making up 43% of income, Vet services making up 36%, other income of 8% and donations making up the remaining 13%. Of the donation income 37% is represented by a generous donation received from Patron Pamela Isdell.

The income from Vet Services and Adoptions also remained in line with the prior year making up 36% of total income, thanks to the hard working and dedicated staff. Investment interest income has increased in current year, this is a result of funds being held in interest bearing cash reserves.

Overall expenses have increased by approximately 8%. This is in line with only an inflationary increase and costs have been strictly managed by the Society.

Although the Society has remained stable during 2019/20, it still operates with an overall deficit, forcing us to use funds from the capital reserve. We greatly appreciate donations and bequests as the Society is dependent on these funds to continue providing its first-class service.

The Annual Financial Statements will be available at the AGM and on request from: carmen@awscape.org.za

- We microchipped 343 pets.
- Hospital in-patients totalled: 4 631. A staggering monthly average of 386 patients.
- 786 animals were admitted into our Kennels and Cattery. A monthly average of 66 – mainly dogs.
- The variances may almost singularly be attributed to the National Lockdown when we were restricted to emergencies only.

Resource Development and Communications report

It's been said that fortune favours the bold. This adage perfectly sums up our performance over the past year – a year that saw the Animal Welfare Society of South Africa being justly rewarded for its many courageous acts.

Our brave Hospital and Inspectorate teams deserve a special mention for their unwavering dedication and decisive action that benefitted thousands of animals in countless ways.

Our Education, Outreach and Mass Animal Sterilisation Projects also positively impacted the lives of many needy animals within our vast area of operation and contributed meaningfully towards a marked reduction in the number of animal cruelty cases.

Whilst we have every reason to celebrate all of these noteworthy operational accomplishments, it should be remembered that our beneficiary constituency is representative of the poorest of the poor who very often are unable to make any form of co-contribution towards their pet's care. That, as you can imagine places our budget under enormous pressure.

It is only thanks to you our generous donors that we have been able to afford to treat and transform the lives of as many animals as we have over the past year - and we sincerely hope that our accomplishments on all fronts have exceeded your expectations and inspired you to continue partnering with us in our quest for a cruelty free society.

The highlight of the year was the opening of the magnificent Isdell Sterilisation Clinic that boasts two fully refurbished and newly equipped operating theatres with the capacity to comfortably accommodate 75 animals.

Other noteworthy accomplishments include making it to the list of 30 national finalists for a coveted Impumelelo Social Innovations Award and passing the Community Chest and NGO Advisor due diligence tests with full marks.

We were also generously gifted a brand-new Nissan NP 300 vehicle by William Simpson that has been converted into a professional animal carrier. This is the flagship of our vehicle fleet and will significantly increase our operational capacity and ability to safely collect and deliver pets during our education, outreach and pet sterilisation drives.

I am also very pleased to report that we have earned the support of several new Trust and Legacy benefactors as well as a growing number of Community Action Networks and at the request of several testators plan to start our very own Bequest Society in the near future.

Our list of corporate partners has also increased and now includes all premium pet food brands, additional retailers and several companies in the medical supply, building and hospitality industries.

These much appreciated and meaningful partnerships, coupled with our incredibly generous individual donors and volunteers all go a long way towards ensuring that we will be able to meet the daunting demands of the future.

I am also pleased to report that we continue to enjoy the selfless support of the amazing Brigitte Reeve-Taylor and her Dancers Love Dogs dancers who generously sponsored the cost of hundreds of pet sterilisations throughout the year and who have pledged their ongoing support that will go a long way towards enabling us to prevent countless litters of unwanted kittens and puppies from being born into a life of deprivation.

We continue to enjoy media prominence and I would be remiss if I did not thank all of our friends in the media for their unwavering and spontaneous support throughout the year. Their individual and collective contributions have been huge and helped to place us firmly on the map and at the forefront of all animal lover's minds.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank and acknowledge all of our Facebook followers for their constructive engagements and amazing support. Their continued words of encouragement spoken like true friends helps to lift our spirits and strengthen our resolve no matter how seemingly impossible or hopeless the task.

Tragically towards the end of the financial year the world faced the worst pandemic of our lifetime that has sadly cost hundreds of thousands of precious lives and thrown economies into a wild tail-spin with dire consequences. The impact on all of us has been unprecedented and the hardship that we have witnessed worldwide and firsthand within our jurisdiction has brought us to tears.

COVID-19 has been described as a novel zoonotic disease (a disease that can be transmitted from animals to people) causing the world to seriously rethink the way animals are treated.

This silver lining is a poignant reminder of the unequivocal need for animal welfare organisations like ourselves that are on the frontline of the battle against animal abuse, neglect and cruelty.

We truly care about animals but wouldn't exist without animal lovers just like you donating your funds, time, talents and expertise to our Society or leaving a very special gift in your Will.

We have already taken courageous steps to keep everyone safe and to 'future-proof' the Animal Welfare Society and have had to quickly adapt to a vastly changed set of circumstances.

Thankfully, the one consistent that we have is your continued support that will ensure that we will always be there for the animals.

Themba

Themba walked into our lives just before the start of the National Lockdown. The image of her emaciated body painfully stumbling through the bushes as she summed up her last ounces of energy to make it to safety is a pitiful sight that we will never, ever forget.

She literally collapsed at our front gate and had to be carried to the hospital. She clearly hadn't eaten for a very long time and weighed next to nothing and her bedraggled coat was crawling with ticks and fleas that caused her to itch all over.

She needed help standing to prevent her from collapsing as she wolfed down a large bowl of food without taking a breath and without taking her eyes off her food. To add to her plight she had biliary and required a blood transfusion.

Her adorable qualities and miraculous transformation drew a lot of interest especially from members of the amazing Camps Bay Community Action Network (CAN) who have been so supportive and generous to us over the entire lockdown that it came as no surprise when one of their members contacted us to enquire about adopting Themba.

The initial introduction can best be described as love at first sight with Themba pulling out all the stops to impress. Themba soon left our care to join this loving forever family who sent us a photograph of her curled up fast asleep on her new bed, warm and content.

We are so grateful to this wonderful family for giving Themba a second chance and hope that this remarkable outcome will inspire you to adopt your next pet from us.

Themba means 'Hope', and Themba became a symbol of hope for all of us during the National Lockdown. She came to us at a time when many families were struggling to feed their pets due to limited income. Themba became the poster-child for our feeding campaign and thanks to the generosity of our supporters, we were able to assist many families with providing food and care for their beloved pets.

Cooper

On Wednesday, 22 January, our Hospital staff were presented with a juvenile Pitbull named Cooper that had both his ears cruelly cut off with a pair of scissors and crudely stitched together with fishing line.

What was left of his little ears had become infected and inflamed and he was clearly traumatised by his torturers cruel deeds.

It took a massive team-effort and substantial investment to save Coopers life but it was worth every single minute and every Cent.

Cooper spent almost a month in our care and thankfully made a full recovery. You will also be pleased to know that within 48 hours of his arrival we had identified, apprehended and charged those responsible for mutilating Cooper.

Our switchboard almost imploded following our initial expose about what this remarkable dog was forced to endure and by the end of day one we had a long list of pet lovers pledging to contribute towards his medical bill and wanting to take him home.

Our Head of Communications, Resource Development and Fundraising, Allan Perrins, fielded enquiries from as far afield as the UK and Cooper's plight resonated with animal lovers all over South Africa.

Allan and Senior AWS SA Inspector, Mark Levendal, had the pleasure of delivering Cooper to his excited new owner who thanked us for saving Cooper's life and for allowing her the privilege of adopting him.

Thanks to a great team effort and your generous donations, Cooper will get to run and play on the beach and never have to worry about anyone hurting him ever again.

Scooby

Thando (together with her Mom Mpilo and brother Baby) was admitted in February 2017. They were rescued from an open sand patch in nearby Delft and appeared homeless, grossly neglected and emaciated. All 3 dogs were riddled with mange to the extent of being almost hairless and were also suffering from a host of other life-draining parasites.

Their extended stay with us was a 'home away from home' experience – they were given daily walks, loads of environmental enrichment and monitored for any signs of stress. They clearly thrived on all the love and attention they received from their AWS SA caregivers.

At the time of her admission Thando weighed a mere 12.65kgs. Today she weighs a healthy 23.3kgs and sports a shiny, sable coloured coat. She was adopted in December 2019 – two years and 10 months after arrival. Thando (renamed Scooby) was given the ultimate Christmas gift – the gift of life, love and a second chance with a family that truly cares.

While in our care, Thando was gifted a huge reclining chair by our Chairman, Dr Jim McNamara, that both she and Mpilo (her mom) loved to curl up on – so it came as no surprise to see her asleep on a similar lounge chair in her new home.

We could not have scripted a more heart-warming, fairy-tale ending.

Howler's happy ending

Howler was with us for just over 700 days before he joined his forever, loving new family towards the end of 2019. This exceptional boy, who crept into all of our hearts while he was with us, finally found his happily every after.

Based on the positive feedback and photos from the family, he is clearly a 'Daddy's Boy'. The family appreciated just how much enjoyment and comfort Howler got from his car tyre whilst in our care, so no guesses as to what his first toy was – a brand new tyre!

The 5 Freedoms of Animals

The 5 Freedoms are a set of standards that we, as animal owners and carers, must understand and adopt to ensure that the welfare of animals is provided for. These standards are internationally recognised and are not just about the things that we want to do for our animals, but also the things we must do in order to be responsible and caring owners.

Freedom from hunger and thirst

Freedom from discomfort

Freedom from pain, injury and disease

Freedom to express normal behaviour

Works with

Bhalisa Services gave back on Mandela Day by fumigating our hospital.

Thanks to the magic of modern technology and the expertise of a few local geniuses at Ground2Tap, we have succeeded in safely purifying our borehole water supply to a potable quality safe for human consumption.

Thanks to an amazing donation by the City of Cape Town and Lionel's Choice Pet Food, we could supply pet food to communities in need during the Covid-19 crisis.

A massive thank you to Cape Brick for their generous donation of concrete blocks to rebuild our boundary wall.

Corporate Sponsors and Business Partners

Our numerous appeals for corporate support were heard and we are delighted to announce several new change-maker partnerships.

Our sincere thanks is extended to all of our business partners for sharing their time, talents, expertise and good fortune with us.

Bob Martin generously supported our COVID-19 Cape Flats feeding campaign with mountainous donations of nutritious cat and dog food.

Thanks to everyone who so generously contributed towards our goal of raising sufficient funds to sterilise, vaccinate, dip and deworm 67 animals.

Special thanks to Jackie Wernberg for the beautiful photos she takes for us!
